CANADIAN SOCIETY OF GASTROENTEROLOGY NURSES & ASSOCIATES

APRIL 1999 VOL. 9, #36

Gastro '99 Update

Gastro '99 is drawing closer and it promises to be one of our best meetings yet. As you are aware this is a special conference with educational opportunities of a greater magnitude than we have ever been able to offer at one Conference. As well we will be offering a one day Conference fee for those that cannot attend the entire Conference. This will be a $100.00 fee in Canadian funds for members of CSGNA. When you send in your registration to Chateau Travel just add a note stating that you are a CSGNA member (they have our membership log) and which day you wish to attend. As well the fee for the Conference will be in Canadian dollars for Canadian nurses who are members of CSGNA throughout the registration period. The planning Committee is working hard to bring you many added attractions to make this not just a great learning experience but a great deal of fun as well! Watch the CSGNA Web Page for any additional news about Gastro '99. I hope to see you all there.

DEVELOPING A POSTER PRESENTATION

Poster presentations are one method of presenting articles, projects or research at a professional conference which the CSGNA have included in their curriculum. There have been very informative displays at our previous conferences and we are encouraging chapters to submit a presentation for the 1999 CSGNA conference in Vancouver. With the "long winter nights" this would be a good time to start your project!

The poster can be of a research nature, information or project. All posters should include an abstract which would include author's name with credentials, place of employment and current position.

Research poster to include research question(s) or hypothesis, methodology, data analysis findings, implications for practice and conclusions. New programs or projects include introduction and purpose, principal theme of subject, implications to practice and summary. Information posters can be done with chart and/or graph form display including objectives.

Posters should be of uniform size - Bristol board - 22 x 28 in. Application of material can be glued on or written directly on posters, color of your choice. The posters will be displayed at the conference.

Suggested topics may include but not limited to:

- Diagnosis and treatment of Achalasia
- Celiac Disease
- Electrosurgical Safety
- Support Groups for the GI Patient
- Lynch Syndrome
- Bowel preps for colonoscopy - what are the choices?
- Hemochromatosis

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people that have contributed to this newsletter. This is the first time that I have not had to rustle the bushes for contributions to the newsletter. In fact I was not able to put in all the articles that were sent to me in this issue. They will however be in the next issue of The Guiding Light. I have great faith that this trend will continue and people will begin submitting more and more information that they would like to share with the other members. It is a true delight to see such active participation.

In this issue we have a great article on Barrett's Esophagus, along with an update on the research currently going on at the Queen Elizabeth II Health Sciences Centre in Halifax. Also please note the outline for poster presentations. This is available to you as a guideline for each annual convention. There is also an updated list of the Chapter Executive List.

Once again thank you for the contributions and I look forward to seeing you in Vancouver.

Lorie McGeough

C.S.G.N.A. DISCLAIMER

The Canadian Society of Gastroenterology Nurses and Associates is proud to present The Guiding Light newsletter as an educational tool for use in developing/promoting your own policies and procedures and protocols.

The Canadian Society of Gastroenterology Nurses and Associates does not assume any responsibility for the practices or recommendations of any individual, or for the practices and policies of any Gastroenterology Unit or endoscopy unit.

Membership Recruitment

In the November issue of "The Guiding Light" you were informed of the Board of Directors Strategic plan for the future of CSGNA. Membership is our top priority. The continued success of CSGNA is dependant on our ability to attract new members and retain all members.

I would like to review with you the Membership Recruitment and Retention information contained in your chapter package.

MEMBERSHIP MARKETING

Marketing is crucial to the continued success of any organization. The CSGNA is no different. First we need to educate ourselves on the benefits of belonging to the CSGNA. The opportunity to network with other Gastroenterology Professionals, The Newsletter, Annual National Conference, Regional Conferences, Chapter Membership, Standards of Care, Position Statements and Scholarships to attend educational events.

Next we must identify our target market – nurses and other health care workers who are looking for an organization such as ours and who would benefit from the services we provide.

Identify the areas where potential members work; Medical Units, Surgical Units, Pediatric Gastroenterology Services, Cancer Clinics, Infection Control and Operating Room Staff. Associate members such as Dietitians, Respiratory Therapists and Sales representatives from equipment and drug companies.

Then we must make potential members aware of the benefits of joining the CSGNA.

RECRUITMENT

Set up a membership committee and ensure each institution in your chapter area has a contact person to distribute information. Set realistic goals. Create a plan to attract new members and monitor progress at regular intervals.

Have membership applications and current issues of "The Guiding Light" available at each meeting. Acknowledge members who recruit new members or bring back long-absent members. Ensure all new members receive their Membership Package. Maintain contact with all potential members.

RETENTION

The CSGNA publishes a yearly membership list and distributes it to all Chapter Presidents and to any member on request. Utilize this document to maintain contact with your members and to monitor the retention of members in your area. Contact former members and find out why they are no longer a member. If they are dissatisfied with the services provided by CSGNA be prepared to listen to their concerns. Maintain contact with your Regional Representative so she/he can bring members concerns to the CSGNA Board of Directors for discussion and resolution.

TIPS FOR A DYNAMIC CHAPTER

- Notify members at least three weeks in advance of meetings and other events.
- Follow a planned agenda, keep meetings short.
- Plan interesting and current educational programs.
- Alternate meeting locations.
- Involve all chapter members in the activities of the chapter.
- Make everyone feel welcome and acknowledge all members for their contributions.
- Be receptive and responsive to the wishes of all members.

SUMMARY

In 1988 I became a member of CSGNA because someone left an application form in my unit. I was not familiar with the organization but I was looking for an organization that was promoting the Specialty of Gastroenterology Nursing. I have been an active member ever since. Every time you promote the CSGNA to your colleagues you are attracting new members.

Chapters are the backbone of our organization and it is through your work locally that the CSGNA will continue its growth and success.

Research at the Q.E. II

The Queen Elizabeth II Health Sciences Centre Dalhousie University in Halifax has exciting things going on in Research. The Gastroenterology Research team has grown over the past few years to five full time nurses, (soon to be six) two part time research assistants, one of whom does the shipping of the various specimens we send out daily. We are currently involved in about 30 clinical trials in the Gastroenterology Division and at present have about 100 patients in various treatment trials.

Our oldest research project is a registry of all the patients that we have seen over the past seven years with Inflammatory Bowel Disease (IBD). We record their diagnosis, medications, how old they were when diagnosed, whether they have had surgery for their IBD or been pregnant since their diagnosis. We are also interested in how many of them have other family members with IBD. We currently have about 2,300 patients with Crohn's disease, Ulcerative Colitis, and Ulcerative Proctitis in the Nova Scotia registry.

We are looking at bone density in patients with Crohn's disease and whether smoking effects frequency of exacerbation of the disease.

We are involved in a large project gathering blood samples from 200 families across Nova Scotia and Newfoundland who have multiple members with Crohn's disease or Ulcerative Colitis in an attempt to determine if there is a genetic component that predisposes a person to develop IBD. We have set-up clinics across NS and NFLD and a few thousand tubes of blood. In each family we took blood from all first degree relatives of the patients.

At the Q.E. II we are also establishing the Maritime Hereditary Gastrointestinal Cancer registry. The first step has been to identify patients with hereditary nonpolyposis colorectal cancer and set up a counselling and surveillance program for them and their families.

We are involved in a trial using a new immune system modulator, Interleukin-10 in steroid dependent patients with Crohn's disease to see if it will enable them to wean off cortico steroid medication. In Crohn's patients with terminal ileac disease, we are involved in a trial looking at comparing Budesonide alone to Budesonide in combination with antibiotics (Metronidazole and Ciprofloxacin) in inducing remission.

Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) accounts for about 20% of the new referrals to our out-patient clinics. We have a number of clinical trials ongoing for patients with diarrhea, predominant IBS and one study looking at constipation in the elderly.

Over the last 18 months we have been involved in a study of, Clostridium Difficile infection, a new binding agent to the toxin that causes the disease. Our laboratory processes about 6,000 positive specimens for Clostridium Difficile a year. About 20% of these patients who are treated will get a recurrent infection often the initial treatment. This has been a particularly busy trial because some of the patients are in veterans or nursing care facilities and so the research nurse is in fact going to the patients in their homes.

Research on Helicobacter is another important branch of our activities. We are involved in studies looking at new treatment to cure the infection, the resistance of Helicobacter to antibiotics and the mechanism by which this may occur; development and validation of urea breath test to diagnosis the infection, new serological test for and new stool test for diagnosis.

We are currently looking at symptom relief in Gastroesophageal Reflux disease comparing a proton pump inhibitor to an H2 Blocker and we do many treatment trials for duodenal ulcers, gastric ulcers, non-ulcer dyspepsia and Helicobacter pylori eradication therapy.

The increased prevalence of Hepatitis C in the Atlantic provinces has resulted in increased clinical trials activity. In the past year a Hepatitis C clinic has been established where over 400 patients are seen annually. In the past two years, at the Q.E. II Health Sciences Centre we have enrolled over 100 patients in studies treating and collecting data in patients infected with this virus.

We have been on the leading edge of trials involving the use of induction doses of Interferon as well as long acting Interferons.

Helicobacter Pylori

Helicobacter pylori is a bacteria that lives in the lining of the stomach (body and antrum). It can lead to an infection in the stomach (gastritis) and ulcers (gastric and duodenal). Approximately 85 to 90% of people who have an ulcer have Helicobacter pylori in the stomach. The infection may cause such symptoms as pain or discomfort just below the breast bone, heartburn, excessive burping or belching, nausea or feeling full or bloating in the upper stomach.

Other things that may cause an ulcer include drugs, such as, ASA's (Aspirin), non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAID's), taken for arthritis, stomach acid, family history or stress. Smoking, age (the risk increases as you get older) and gender (men are more likely than women) may influence your likelihood of getting an ulcer.

In order to find out if you have this bacteria you can under go different tests. The most accurate of course is the gastroscopy or upper G.I. endoscopy. It involves your doctor looking into your stomach with a flexible tube with a light at the end of it. He will take biopsies which will be sent to the histology and microbiology lab to be read.

One of the newest and most accurate tests to diagnose the H. Pylori infection today is the C13-urea breath test (UBT). It is a non-radioactive, non-invasive test used to detect and confirm that the infection is gone. Helicobacter pylori secretes an enzyme called urease which breaks down into carbon dioxide and ammonia when it makes contact with the gastric enzymes. The C13-urea test targets the CO<sub>2</sub> from the urease break down.

The C13-urea test is a very simple test and involves collecting 2-3 breath samples. All you have to do is blow into a plastic tube that collects a sample of your breath. Then you will be asked to drink a glass of ensure or apple juice and then some C13 urea mixed with a small amount of water. This is a tasteless and a non-radioactive solution. Breath samples will then be taken at baseline, 30 and 60 minutes if ensure is used as the meal; baseline and 30 minutes, if apple juice is used as the meal. The breath samples will then be analysed for the amount of CO<sub>2</sub> they contain. Depending on the amount of CO<sub>2</sub>, will indicate if you have H. Pylori.

The preparation for this test is important:

- 1) No food or drink for at least 4-hours before taking the test.
- 2) No proton pump inhibitors (eg. Losec) 2 weeks prior to the test.
- 3) No antibiotics (eg. Penicillin, tetracycline, biaxin, metronidazole) in the last 4-weeks.
- 4) No bismuth preparations (pepto-bismol) in the last 4-weeks.
- 5) No smoking before or during the test.

If you are diagnosed with H. pylori it is important to discuss the results and treatment with your doctor. To get rid of the infection your doctor may prescribe antibiotics to get rid of the bacteria as well as medication that lowers the amount of acid in your stomach. Two of the most widely used treatment recommendations are:

- 1) Losec 20mg., metronidazole 500mg., and omeprazole 500mg.; all three medications b.i.d. for 7-days.
- 2) Losec 20mg., Amoxicillin 1,000mg., and clarithromycin 500mg.; all three medications b.i.d. for 7-days (1-week).

At our center now we have a number of active studies concerning Pos-Hp patients.

- 1) A dyspepsia study for patients who are Hp-pos, treated for 1-week and followed-up for one year.
- 2) A study for pos-Hp patients with a history of peptic ulcer disease or non-ulcer dyspepsia, treated for one week and followed-up for 12 weeks by 2 breath tests.
- 3) We are the analysis center for 30 centers across Canada for a study enrolling neg-Hp patients with dyspepsia. We are using the LARA UBT Machine from Alimenterics to analyze the samples.
- 4) We also have a number of Quality of Life Questionnaire studies on the go.

This is an extremely interesting field of research in which to be involved. We have 4 new studies to start within the next month or two. There is always room to learn.

TOOLS FOR CERTIFICATION

Gastroenterology Nursing: A Core Curriculum 1997

Designed to meet the needs of all members of the gastroenterology nursing team, this volume reviews the body of knowledge that underlies the gastroenterology nursing practice. It is designed to serve as a primary source for nurses and associates preparing for the gastroenterology nursing certification exam. By nature an overview, the Core Curriculum contains reference for further study, and is intended to be used with complimentary texts to provide additional depth of information.

Available solely from the publisher. All requests must be made to Mosbey-Yearbook, c/o Pat Newman, 11830 Westline Drive, PO Box 46908, St. Louis MO 63146-9806. Phone: 1-800-426-4545.

Presenting the Core: 1995

This collection of slides, developed by SGNA with a grant from Olympus America, is designed to complement A Core Curriculum. It is intended to be used with the accompanying outline and objectives as the basis for a presentation of The Core Curriculum as a continuing education offering and/or in preparation for the gastroenterology certification exam. The slides are available for rent: you provide the faculty. Additional information and an application are available by calling SGNA

Headquarters at 1-312-644-4267.

Member rental fee
$85
Non-member rental fee $120.

GASTRO '99 CHAPTER CHALLENGE

SCHOLARSHIP/ PRECEPTORSHIP PROGRAM

Special thanks to Vancouver Chapter and Saskatchewan Chapter for their contributions. How about your chapter?

A combined donation may be enough to bring a physician/nurse team from South/Central America or the Caribbean to Gastro '99.

Together we can make a difference. Let's make this an event to remember!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE*What Makes Gastroenterology Nursing Unique?

This is the question asked of us by the Canadian Nurses Association. I invite all members to write to me expressing what they think makes us unique. What sets GI nursing apart from other specialties? The CSGNA Executive will review all your suggestions and incorporate those suitable into the revision of our Standards.

As you are all aware the CSGNA Executive has been working with the Canadian Nurses Association to make Canadian Certification in Gastroenterology Nursing a reality. This has, at times in the past few years, seemed a slow and tedious process. A proposal was sent to the C.N.A. in the spring of 1998 and was reviewed by their board in September. I am happy to announce that CSGNA received a positive reply from the C.N.A. in January 1999. They congratulated us on our proposal and have stated "The overall quality of the information in the proposal is very good and has met most of the criteria for specialty designation. A consensus was achieved by Council and the decision to designate Gastroenterology in principal with some revisions to the initial proposal." This does not mean we will have an exam in the immediate future but the ground work is being laid. The C.N.A. has targeted CGSNA as one group to be considered in the development of a new business plan to develop Certification for smaller specialty groups. The CSGNA executive will be working to revise the proposal to the specification felt necessary, and will be working closely with the C.N.A. as they develop their new plan for smaller specialty groups. For the short term the C.N.A. has advised us that those seeking Certification now "should write the American exam". The C.N.A. has also expressed the desire to meet with the CBGNA in the U.S. regarding their certification exam. This leads us to believe that the possibility of reciprocity could become a reality for the future. As we progress with the Certification process we will keep you informed every step of the way. For now I would like to request that anyone interested in taking the American exam this fall to write, fax or phone me ASAP. This will enable us to pick appropriate sites in Edmonton and Toronto. I would like to invite those CGRN's to send their names to Lorie McGeough CSGNA Newsletter Editor so that we can print them in the Certification corner. Congratulations to all who took the exam!

Respectfully Cindy Hamilton
CGRN, President CSGNA

Dear Nurse Colleagues,

The Canadian Society of Gastroenterology Nurses and Associates is supporting a scholarship/preceptorship program for Latin American and Caribbean nurses to attend Gastro '99. Financial support to attend the conference is of vital concern. Nurses from the Caribbean, South, Central, and Latin America may only be paid $125 US per month and some physicians receive even less. A fund-raising initiative to raise $250,000 to create a scholarship/bursary for nurses is underway. Your support will help to fund airfare, hotel, registration, medical insurance, and expenses for our nurse colleagues. If you, your unit, your Chapter, your region, or any other individual or company would like to contribute to this very worthwhile project, please complete the form below and forward your donation to:

WESTERN DIRECTOR REPORT Okanagan

Chapter President Linda Frandsen reports the following highlights from a recent meeting:

1. Registration of three spots at the Gastro '99 conference. Four nurses will share these spots to ensure that they are able to attend at least some of the events. They also hope to host some visitors at their hospital following the conference.
2. The G.I. Unit at Kelowna General Hospital are hosting a G.I. Fair to show the rest of the hospital what they do. They plan to hold this in the afternoons of Feb. 23 and 24. They will create displays utilizing videos, pamphlets and equipment. Areas they will focus on include; PEG feeding tubes, hepatitis C, esophageal motility, ERCP's and general G.I. topics such as polyps and colitis.

They are inviting and encouraging anyone in the hospital to attend these sessions.

Vancouver Island

Chapter President Irene Ohley reports that the Chapter is busy fundraising for the Gastro '99 education fund. They are planning a Valentine's and Easter draw to help raise money. They hope to offer a G.I. day this Spring to provide an opportunity for networking and education for interested personnel working in the field of Gastroenterology in their region.

Vancouver Regional

Chapter President Gail Whitley reports that the education half day held November 21 was very informative. A big thank you to all the vendors for their continued support. Two regional members will have their registration to Gastro '99 paid by the Chapter. The Chapter has donated $1500.00 to the Gastro '99 scholarship fund. We urge all Chapters across Canada to make a donation to this fund with the goal of bringing many of our South, Central and Latin American colleagues to this event. Chapter members are working diligently on the Gastro '99 planning committee and are looking forward to participating in this unique educational event. We look forward to meeting all of you in September!

Respectfully submitted,
Cheryl McDonald, Director West

CALGARY CHAPTER

The executive for the upcoming 2 year term is as follows:

President: Debbie Taggart
Secretary: Darlene Pontifex
Treasurer: Evelyn Hilderman
Education: Meiwan Loh/Gail Hill

An education evening November 5, 1998 sponsored by AMT with a presentation from David McCrory of the ERBE electrosurgical unit was very informative. We thank AMT for supporting this social/educational event.

Thank-you Deb

Members of the Calgary Chapter CSGNA wish to thank Deb Erickson for her six years as President of the chapter. Deb's tireless efforts in promoting the CSGNA and excellence in gastroenterology nursing practice has been an inspiration and motivating factor for many of us. She encouraged us to be the best we could be in GI nursing, for our patients as well as ourselves. We wish you well, Deb, in your Gastro '99 endeavors.

CANADA WEST REPORT

Alberta/Manitoba Edmonton

Edmonton Chapter held a general meeting November 9, 1998. It was very exciting to have 17 people present – the largest number ever for a general meeting. Sonja Shaw, Co-Chair of the Chapter has moved away so Co-Chair Judy Langner is looking for a member to share this position. The executive also includes Secretary, Doris Strudwick and Treasurer, Patti Ofner. Judy Langner gave a review of the National Conference held in September 1998. An extended discussion about Gastro '99 included areas of fundraising, room sharing, general information and education programs.

Another meeting was held on February 2, 1999. Dr. Connie Switzer presented "Updates from Therapeutic Endoscopy". This was a very informative meeting for members and guests alike. A short business session followed. The main discussion concerned the National Conference in 2001 as Edmonton will be hosting this conference.

Judy Langner, RN Winnipeg

A special thank you to Sylvia Dolynchuk, Chapter President who keeps me updated with a written report from each chapter meeting held by the Manitoba Chapter. On November 2, 1998, the guest speakers included:

Tim Steven – Valleylab

Janet Ridgedale – Equipment and supply, Advisor for Surgery Program

Enid Suderman – Territory manager, Microvasive/Boston Scientific evening sponsor

Ken Danlyluk – Pentax representative, new member

A business session followed. A spring conference is being planned for April 10, 1999.

REPORT FROM THE DIRECTOR OF CANADA CENTRE

I would first like to wish everyone and yours a Happy New Year for 1999. Next I would like to congratulate all those members who passed the American certification exam in October. We are very proud of those members who worked hard to achieve their goal. Gastroenterology is a specialty in a field by itself and we as Canadians are working to have it recognized as such in our country. I would like to encourage more members to apply for their certification as I feel it will enhance our education and interest in this distinct area. After completing a very busy year in 1998 everyone is off to a fast start for this new year.

The Golden Horseshoe Chapter is planning for a four hour educational conference in April. I would like to remind everyone that this coming November the Chapter will be electing their new Executive.

In April, the London and Area Chapter will be hosting a four hour education session on "Scope Cleaning" sponsored by Fibertech.

Also in April, the Southwestern Chapter is planning a four hour conference. Details for this event are not finalized at the present time.

The Greater Toronto Chapter is organizing an educational session for November followed by an election for their new Executive.

I would like to remind everyone of the importance of becoming active with the functions of your Chapter.

When more people become involved in the Chapters activities the more successful the outcome will be. Let us not forget that the main objective of this association is to improve and educate its members.

OTTAWA CHAPTER

Nicole Millaire, President of the Ottawa Chapter, and myself attended a conference in Quebec City of the Association Quebecois Des Infirmieres et Assistantes en Gasterologie from November 20th to the 22nd. This association has 72 members and this was their 8th conference. The Friday night was comprised of the annual business meeting, a period costume fashion show followed by a wine and cheese where we met the president Judy Ann Boyer and her executive. Saturday was a full day with several presentations in conjunction with the physicians. We very much enjoyed the interactive video machines that tested our knowledge throughout the conference.

The Ottawa Chapter, in its continued support of education, is hosting a Day seminar with a motivational speaker on April 24th, 1999 in Toronto. I am presently revising the Chapter package and would like to thank all of you who gave me your input. Congratulations to all those who wrote and successfully obtained their CGRN. Your commitment to GI nursing is to be commended.

Yours in CSGNA, Nancy Campbell Director of Canada Centre

The New Brunswick Chapter's Annual Education day 1998 was held on November 8th at The Moncton Hospital. It was an informative and enjoyable learning session for the thirty nurses in attendance. Bard, Carsen Medical, Cook Canada and Pri Med sponsored the day. Lunch and nutrition breaks were provided by Boston Scientific. President Carolyn Lewis conducted a tour of the G.I. Unit for the curious among us. Thank-you Carolyn for that thoughtful gesture.

Discussion with P.E.I. members resulted in a unanimous decision to join the N.B. chapter. This puts them geographically closer to the Chapter Executive and will enable them to attend more chapter functions.

The N.S. Chapter Executive held a meeting on January 12th. Business discussion took place including consideration of several fund raising ideas. The report from the National Executive's telephone conference was reviewed as well. All present at the January 12th meeting were pleased with the topics that were discussed and decisions that had been made during the conference call.

The 1999 Annual East Coast Regional C.S.G.N.A. Conference will be held on June 18 and 19th at the Loyalist Inn at Summerside, P.E.I. Much of the planning has been completed and we anticipate a busy spring finalising our program.

CANADA EAST REPORT

The Newfoundland Chapter

The chapter held a meeting on February 10 with 10 members in attendance. The first item of discussion was the possibility of hosting the national CSGNA Conference in 2002. It was a positive response but further information will be made available to the members before a final decision is made by the association and chapter. Criteria for scholarships were reviewed and members were encouraged to apply. Poster presentation for the 1999 CSGNA conference in Vancouver will be submitted from the endoscopy unit staff of St. Clares. A half day information session on scope maintenance with Carson Medical is hoping to be arranged within the next month. We will notify other areas that have interest in this area when this information becomes available. Our next chapter meeting will be held after the Easter break.

Linda Feltham

Don't Judge Too Hard

Pray don't find fault with the man who limps,
Or stumbles along the road;
Unless you have worn the shoes he wears,
Or struggled beneath his load.
There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt,
Though hidden away from view;
Or the burden he bears placed on your back,
Might cause you to stumble too.
Don't sneer at the man who's down today,
Unless you have felt the blow;
That caused his fall, or felt the shame,
That only the fallen know.
You may be strong, but still the blows,
That were his, if dealt on you;
In the selfsame way, at the selfsame time,
Might cause you to stagger too.
Don't be too harsh with the man who sins,
Or pelt him with words or stones;
Unless you are sure, yea, doubly sure,
That you have no sins of your own.
For you know perhaps, if the tempter's voice,
Should whisper as softly to you;
As it did to him when he went astray,
T'would cause you to falter too.

Position Statement

STAFFING FOR THERAPEUTIC ENDOSCOPY PROCEDURES ON ADULTS

Therapeutic endoscopy procedures involve advanced knowledge and technical skill in order to safely perform/assist with procedures to achieve desired patient outcomes. Therapeutic endoscopy procedures may include but are not limited to: Bronchoscopy, Colon Decompression, Guidewire Dilatations with Hydrostatic or Pneumatic Balloons, Emergency Endoscopy, ERCP (diagnostic and therapeutic: i.e. stent, sphincterotomy, nasobiliary catheter drainage), Esophageal Banding, Esophageal Prosthesis Placement, Foreign Body Removal, Heater Probe/Bicap Coagulation, Laser, Motility Studies, PEG/PEJ, Polypectomy, Sclerotherapy (all types of injections, Gluing).

Most patients undergoing therapeutic endoscopy procedures will require "Conscious Sedation" (see position statement related to conscious sedation).

Gastroenterology nursing has witnessed significant evolutionary changes in the past 15 - 20 years. Factors such as an aging population, advanced technology thus allowing for more complex procedures to be performed, as well as the specialization of gastroenterology medicine have all had an impact on nursing practice.

As Canada undergoes significant health care reform, health care institutions are being mandated to redesign their internal structures to become "leaner" while maintaining quality care standards.

In the specialty of Gastroenterology, the factors that have influenced staffing include the performance of more complex diagnostic and therapeutic procedures, the changes in the physician practice (where one physician often performs the procedure with a nurse assisting, rather than another physician), and the resultant impact on the expanded role of the nurse.

The primary role of the registered nurse during endoscopy procedures is the maintenance of patient safety through continuous assessment of the patient's condition and intervention as necessary.

The Canadian Society of Gastroenterology Nurses and Associates supports the position that staffing patterns must reflect the responsibilities in the advanced role of the registered nurse in the performance of therapeutic endoscopy procedures.

During therapeutic endoscopy procedures as identified by the Society a minimum of two nurses must be in attendance: one being a registered nurse educated and experienced in gastroenterology and endoscopy nursing in the expanded role and a second (registered) nurse to monitor the patient pre, during, and post-procedure.

Barrett's Esophagus

DEFINITION

Barrett's Esophagus is an acquired pre-malignant condition in which the normal squamous mucosa in the esophagus is replaced by columnar epithelium through the process of metaplasia (the replacement of one adult type of epithelium by another).

This progressive change is caused by chronic reflux esophagitis (GERD).

INCIDENCE

The overall prevalence of Barrett's Esophagus is approximately 10% in patients with reflux esophagitis. Patients with B.E. have 30-40 times increased risk of developing adenocarcinoma of the esophagus. Prevalence is also higher in 1% of the older population, white males and smokers at an average age of 55 years.

DIAGNOSIS AND SMOKING

Endoscopy with biopsy is the most sensitive and specific test diagnosis. Endoscopic diagnosis is based on visual recognition of replacement of the Normal pearly white or pinkish tan squamous mucosa by a reddish, salmon pink velvety metaplastic columnar mucosa. The z-line or squamo columnar junction is irregular with tongues of reddish columnar mucosa extending into the squamous layer. The extent of columnar segment is highly variable. Often there are patches of squamous mucosa scattered around the z-line. Biopsy specimens should be taken at 2 cm intervals throughout the columnar tubular esophagus, and obtained from any visible lesion.

Smoking and alcohol have been suggested as factors in development of cancer in patients with Barrett's esophagus. These patients are therefore advised to abstain from use of alcohol and tobacco.

TREATMENT

Treatment recommendations are controversial but as per the World Congress Gastroenterology 1990 are:

1. No dysplasia or cancer-endoscopy with biopsy of B.E. every 1-2 years.
2. Dysplasia on one surveillance endoscopy repeat endoscopy and confirmation with further specimens.
3. High grade dysplasia – surgery to resect affected area of the esophagus.
4. Low grade dysplasia – intensive anti-reflux therapy with proton pump inhibitors. i.e. Omeprazole, Pantoloc and Prevacid administered for 8 - 12 weeks, then repeat endoscopy and biopsy.
  - a) if improvement of histologic findings then endoscopy every 6 months until no dysplastic epithelium found.
  - b) persistent low-grade dysplasia – continue intensive treatment and surveillance.

SUMMARY

Barrett's esophagus is an increasing health concern in most Western Countries. Diagnosis is usually made when patients with symptoms of GERD are being assessed. Antireflux procedure performed on properly selected patients can provide symptomatic relief in 80-90% of patients. However to date neither medical treatment with lifestyle changes and anti-secretory drugs or anti-reflux surgery has shown convincing evidence of regression of metaplastic epithelium or decrease cancer risk in Barrett's Esophagus.
